NEWS AND COMMENT.

"A PRETTY girl in Iowa has run away from home to avoid practicing on the piano." All the neighbors were packing up for the same purpose when they heard of her departure.

"A YOUNG man has been arrested at Bar Harbor, one of the fashionable summer resorts of Maine, for the grave offense of wearing false whiskers." "Fascination Fedgeby," in "Our Mutual Friend," would have given a good deal for that young man's receipt.

"BLOCKS of five" DUDLEY is buying real estate in Washington City That's the place for him—just as near HARRISON, QUAY and WANNAMAKER as he can possibly get. If we can get the whole tribe huddled up in a bunch it won't be so much trouble sweeping them out after 1892.

"GEN. SPINOLA, of New York, when the force bill was under discussion in the House, remarked that 'the people would do as they did in years gone by:—send your hirelings home if they come fooling around the ballot-box.'" Some of said "hirelings" will be remarkably fortunate if they ever get back home at all.

WHERE is the "sweet girl graduate" now, innocent she of the dove-like eyes? Seek where the sail flaps over the prow, and the foaming breakers madly rise; where the cloud floats by o'er the mountain top, and the awain clasps her dainty waist in the hop; where 'neath the moonlight they stroll afar, heedless of chaperon and of ma.

THE New York Star, the best Democratic paper published in the metropolis for many years, has, through its immense circulation, set afloat a printed remonstrance against the passage of the force bill, to be signed by all good citizens opposed to the iniquity, the several petitions to be forwarded to the United States Senate. But to what avail? The dominant party in Congress subscribes to the creed of the late W. H. VANDERBILT: "D——n the people anyhow!"

GEN. JNO. C. FREMONT—full of the years of a long and eventful life—died in New York city on the 13th inst. He was the first candidate of the Republican party, running with JNO. L. DAYTON, of Ohio, against BUCHANAN and BRECKINRIDGE in 1856. Among the slogans of that campaign were FREMONT'S Rocky Mountain "woolly horse" and his wife "Jessie," who was a daughter of the illustrious THOS. BENTON, of Missouri, and a worthy helpmeet of her distinguished husband.

THE people of the Red Springs section are full of the spirit of the Fruit Fair to be held at Red Springs on the 14th, 15th and 16th of next month, and we would like to see Fayetteville extend a helping hand both by generous contributions in premiums and a large attendance during at least a part of the three days. The whole-souled folks of Robeson have made the annual picnics at that point very delightful reunions, and the Fruit Fair will doubtless be a gathering even surpassing them all.

IT has been many years since we have been called to pass through a more trying summer; and, thanks to the splendid line of the Cape Fear & Yadkin Valley Railway across the State, there was never a time when the people of Fayetteville could so readily and at so little expense find compensation for the pains and discomforts of the intense heat. A day or two in the surf or on the mountain top for the used-up business man; sailing, fishing and flirtation just anywhere for the pretty girl; a week or two at the springs for the wearied matron; a pleasant holiday for the children:—all have been within easy hail without a change of cars or a deflection from the main route.

THE negroes think they can view the "promised land" through the Federal Election bill, and have accordingly petitioned, through the Southern States Colored Republican Association of Alabama, urging the passage of this shot-gun election law. The negroes must know that such interference with our State's Rights is against the spirit of the Constitution and the sentiment of our people, and yet, strange as it may sound, they have the hardihood to say it is necessary to secure "free and fair elections in the South." To us the best thing for the colored man to do, who thinks he can't exercise his political rights in the South, is to go where he can. There is no law to compel him to remain in the South—to go where he could exercise his political rights would seem to us an imperative duty.

To the casual observer it has been evident for some time that all was not "quiet along the Potomac" with BLAINE, of Maine, and the HARRISON-REED administration, and now general credence is given the rumor at the State Department in Washington that as soon as the MCKINLEY bill becomes a law the "Plumed Knight" of Maine is to resign his portfolio, issue a manifesto giving his views on reciprocity, and enter the race for the Presidency in '92. Whether BLAINE will stand on the badly constructed platform of the aforesaid HARRISON administration or not, through which he fell before, is puzzling the minds of the anxious. Some think he will stand on a strictly BLAINE platform, while others think differently. At all events BLAINE'S free trade policy with the South American countries foreshadows an acrobatic somersault in regard to the tariff.

MURDERED BY HIGHWAYMEN.

An Inoffensive Citizen Assaulted, Killed and Robbed on the Highway Near the City.

Wilmington Star, 18th.]

The community was shocked yesterday morning by intelligence received of the murder of Mr. Nathan Fails, an aged and inoffensive white man who lived with his family on Masonboro Sound, a few miles from Wilmington. Mr. George Alford, a neighbor, was the first to discover the body. He passed Mr. Fails' place about daylight yesterday morning on his way to his fishing boat, and, seeing the mule and cart standing at the gate, looked into the cart and saw the body of the murdered man. Mr. Fails' family were called up and a messenger was at once sent to the city to notify the county authorities. Coroner Jacobs went out and summoned a jury and made an examination of the body. It was found that Mr. Fails had been shot in the top of the head—it is supposed while he was asleep, with his head resting on the side of the cart. His pockets had been rifled, and one pocket of his pants had been cut out and the other turned inside out. The murderer, it is supposed, robbed the body of some seven or eight dollars in money.

Mr. Fails came to the city Wednesday afternoon with a cart-load of fish to sell. He had, his family say, four dollars with him, and it is known that he sold his fish for three dollars. It was late in the afternoon when the unfortunate man left for home, and from all indications he was murdered and robbed between eight and nine o'clock just beyond the city limits.

Mr. Peter Mohr says Mr. Fails passed his store, corner of Market and Twelfth streets, on his way to the Sound, at ten minutes past eight o'clock. The keeper of the first toll-house saw Mr. Fails pass a little after 8 o'clock, and Mr. Patton, the keeper at the second toll-house, thinks it was about 9 o'clock when he passed there. He was hailed, but gave no answer, and it was supposed that he was asleep. He was seen in the cart, in a half-recumbent position, with his right arm thrown over the right front corner of the cart.

Mr. Patton says that yesterday morning he found traces of blood along the roadway for about two hundred yards, between the second mile-post and Mr. Tom Eden's place. In all probability the man was murdered near this point.

It is believed that the murder was perpetrated by some of the colored highwaymen who have been lurking on the outskirts of the city for some time past, whose depredations have caused no little alarm to country people, and whose continued presence has been a reproach to the county authorities.

Mr. Fails was about seventy years of age, a good-natured, harmless old man, small of stature and of slight build. He was well-known to most of the residents in the city, having for many years past frequented the market places, selling fish oysters, robins, etc.

Several suspicious characters—all negroes—have been seen recently lurking in the neighborhood of the Mineral Spring, and it is surmised that some of them may have committed the murder and robbery. It is known that two or three escaped penitentiary convicts have been in the vicinity of the city for the past two months. The man Crews, whose capture was attempted by Deputy Sheriff Elder and posse two days ago, is of the number.

Precious Metals.

Probably ninety nine persons out of every one hundred, if asked to name the most precious metals, would mention gold first, platinum second and silver third. A few might add nickel and aluminum to the list. Let us see how near the truth they would be, taking as a basis for comparison the following from the St. Louis Globe-Democrat: Gold is worth about $240 per pound, troy; platinum, $120, and silver about $12. Nickel would be quoted at about sixty cents, and pure aluminum $8 to $9 to the troy pound. Now compare these prices with those of the rarer and less well-known of the metals. To take them in alphabetical order, barim sells for $975 a pound when it is sold at all, and calcium is worth $1,800 a pound.

Cerium is a shade higher—its cost is $160 an ounce or $1,920 a pound. These begin to look like fabulous prices, but they do not reach the highest point: chromium brings $200, cobalt falls to about half the price of silver, while didymum is the same price as cerium, and erbium $10 cheaper on the ounce than calcium, or just $1,680 per pound. If the wealth of the Vanderbilts be not over stated it amounts to nearly $200,000,000. With this sum they could purchase 312 tons of gold and have something left over, but they couldn't buy two tons of gallium, that rare metal being worth $3,250 an ounce. With this metal the highest price is reached, and it may well be called the rarest and most precious of metals.

Glucinum is worth $250 per ounce; indium, $150; iridum, $658 a pound; tanthanium, $175 and lithium, $160 per ounce. Niobium costs $128 per ounce; asmium, palladium, platinum, potassium and rhodium bring respectively $640, $400, $130, $32 and $510 per pound. Strontium costs $158 an ounce; tantium, $144; telurium, $9; thorium, $272; vanadium, $320; yttrium, $144, and zerconium, $250 an ounce. Thus we see that the commonly received opinion as to what are the most precious metals is quite erroneous.

Some Pretty Compliments.

Chicago Tribune.]

When the great Duke of Wellington said he "always slept well when Stapleton Cotton was on guard" he paid a sterling compliment which must have gratified that officer—if he heard it—as much as a promotion in rank would have done.

A little absurdity about a compliment often gives it point. A Spanish lover is reported to have said to his mistress: "Lend me your eyes; I want to-night to kill a man."

Mrs. Moore, the wife of the poet, was noted for her benevolence to the poor in the vicinity of their country residence. On one occasion a guest remarked: "I take it for granted that no one is dying in our neighborhood, or we should not be favored with Mrs. Moore's company."

Not long ago, when a brief matrimonial engagement was broken off, a near relative of the gentleman, one who fully appreciated the high qualities of her from whom the sometime lover was sundered, said to the young lady: "You have only lost an ideal; he has lost a reality." A sweet compliment this under the circumstances.

Beautiful Venus.

Venus is an evening star. She rises with increasing brilliancy for just two hours after sunset. The two brightest stars in the firmament, Venus and Jupiter, are visible at the same time for about an hour on the last week of the month, the former holding her court in the west and the latter holding his court in the east. Venus and Saturn made a close conjunction on the 17th, at 11 h. 36 m. A. M., Venus being 6 m. south. The planets are invisible at conjunction, but were near neighbors on the evening of the 17th.

AUBREY'S FAMOUS RIDE.

A Feat That Has Few Parallels in Physical Endurance and Bravery.

Denver News.]

"The greatest physical achievement ever accomplished in this country," said John F. Graham at Denver, recently, "was the ride of F. X. Aubrey from the plaza of Santa Fe, N. M., to the public square at Independence, Mo., a distance of nearly 800 miles, through a country inhabited by warlike Indians, a large part of which was then a sandy desert."

Being urged to give an account of the great ride, Graham proceeded: "It was about the year 1851 that Aubrey gave his wonderful test of human endurance before which all other attempts of the kind pale into insignificance. He was a short, heavy-set man, 38 years of age, in the prime of manhood and strength. His business for ten years as a Santa Fe trader had made him perfectly familiar with the trail and all the stopping-places. He was a perfect horseman, and, although there were great riders in those days, none of them cared to dispute the palm with Aubrey. On a wager of $1,000 he undertook to ride alone from Santa Fe to Independence inside of six days. It was thirty-nine years ago that he undertook the terrible feat. It was to be the supreme effort of his life, and he sent a half dozen of the swiftest horses ahead to be stationed at different points for use in the ride. He left Santa Fe in a sweeping gallop, and that was the pace he kept up during nearly every hour of the time until he fell fainting from his foam-covered horse in the square at Independence. No man could keep up with the rider, and he would have killed every horse in the West rather than to have failed in the undertaking. It took him just five days and nineteen hours to perform the feat, and it cost the lives of several of his best horses. After being carried into a room at the old hotel at Independence Aubrey lay for forty-eight hours in a dead stupor before he came to his senses. He would never have recovered from the shock had it not been for his wonderful constitution. The feat was unanimously regarded by Western men as the greatest exhibition of strength and endurance ever known on the plains"

"What became of Aubrey afterwards?" was asked.

"After his ride he became the lion of the West, and was dined and feted at St. Louis as though he had been a conquering hero. He finally met his death at the hands of a friend. One day in 1854, in an altercation with Maj. Richard H. Weightman, the great rider was stabbed to the heart, and dropped dead in a Santa Fe saloon. He was buried in an unknown grave, and all that is remembered of Aubrey is his remarkable ride. Weightman was tried upon the charge of murder, but was acquitted, and, joining the Confederate army, was shot at Wilson's Creek while leading his brigade into battle."

A Queer Proceeding.

Arizona Kicker.]

The other night some of the boys came and routed us out of bed at midnight to go over and see 'em hang Pete Smith. Pete is the chap who killed Col. Williams in a saloon row last fall, and who has had a shot at several eminent citizens, including ourself. For the last two weeks he has been running the town, and his refusal to take a hint resulted in his being waited on by the vigilance committee.

We reached the grounds to find Pete standing on a barrel with a rope around his neck. He knew that his time had come, and was ready to die game, but no sooner did he learn of our presence in the crowd than he began to protest and object, and demand that we should be run into the scrub. We called his attention to the fact that he had had two shots at us at close range, and that we were the only party on the ground who could dish up his obituary in good English, but the ungrateful tough kept on kicking, and would not even argue the case.

A man in this country can't have everything he wants, no matter how big a bluffer he is, and when it was seen how unreasonable Pete was the boys went ahead with the hanging just the same, and Mr. Smith won't sail around our streets with a gun on each hip for many moons to come. We've seen some queer things out here, but the idea of a man like Pete Smith objecting to a man like us seeing him drop off a barrel rather caps the climax. We are charitable enough to believe him a little off.

Working on a Canal Begun by Nero.

N. Y. Star.]

One of the interesting canal enterprises now on foot is that which is to connect the Corinthian and Saronic Gulfs of Greece. The canal across the Isthmus of Corinth, which is to render unnecessary the voyage around the Peloponnesus, and will be four miles long—about the length of the Hoosac tunnel—but it will beat even that famous work in the lapse of time between the inception and completion. It was suggested by Periander, one of the seven wise men of Greece, nearly six hundred years before Christ, again by Demetrius Peliocretes in 300 B. C., and once more by Julius Cæsar in 50 B. C. It was actually begun by Nero, who employed, among other laborers, 6,000 Hebrews whom Vespasian had taken prisoners, and it is to be finished by General Tuerr, a Polish engineer, who was in the Italian service with Garibaldi, and who hopes to have it ready for use by 1892. He has carried on the work from the point at which Nero left off, following the latter's lines and making use of a double row of thirty-two pits, some of them 130 feet deep, which had remained unchanged for 1800 years, except that of being filled with debris. The excavation now reaches from sea to sea, and in some places is 223 feet deep. The canal is to be ever seventy-five feet wide at the top and 260 feet in depth at the point where the isthmus is highest.

☞ Talk about beating Vance for the Senatorship in North Carolina is simply nonsense. It can't be done. Politicians on the other side of the fence who think they are going to find the Alliance playing into their hands to bring this about were never more fooled in their lives, and will discover, if they haven't done so already, that the Alliance isn't that kind of an institution. Vance is solid with the Democrats in the Alliance and with Democrats outside of Alliance, and that ought to be solidity enough for all practical purposes.—Wilmington Star.

A Tooth That Cost $3,650.

The hat worn by Napoleon at Eylau was sold in Paris in 1885 for $400. The coat worn by Charles XII. at the battle of Pultowa brought over $100,000. A wig that once belonged to Sterne, the great English writer, was sold at public auction in London a few years ago for $1,050. In 1816 a tooth of Sir Isaac Newton was purchased by a nobleman for $3,650. The buyer had a costly diamond removed from his favorite ring, and the tooth set in its place.

Gigantic Enterprises.

Manufacturers' Record, July 12th.]

The past week has been a noted one for activity in the organization of gigantic industrial enterprises, the magnitude of which overshadows the many smaller concerns that would otherwise command much attention. In Alabama, Tredegar leads with a contract for the building there of a furnace and steel plant, including rolling mill, steel mill, &c., and to employ, when fully completed, about 3,000 hands; Birmingham has a $1,000,000 coal and iron-making company; Huntsville a $50,000 oil company. Georgia shows for this week a $150,000 ore mining company, a $100,000 land and lumber company, a $30,000 clothing manufacturing company, a $6,000,000 gold mining company, a $400,000 phosphate mining company to operate in Florida. At Ocala, Florida, an $800,000 company has been organized to mine and manufacture fertilizers. Kentucky had for the week a $2,000,000 iron and coal company and a $500,000 land improvement company. In southwest Virginia the great activity previously reported continues. At Richards Pennsylvania capitalists will build a $500,000 iron pipe works, and at Radford iron men from the same State will erect two furnaces, a rolling mill, bar, bolt and rail mill, &c., while at Ivanhoe a $500,000 company will build extensive zinc works. While these great concerns are being put into shape the organization of smaller enterprises, such as wood-working mills, brick yards, ice factories, foundries and machine shops, goes directly on. In every direction there is solid growth and increasing prosperity, based on the utilization of the unequaled natural resources of this favored section. The second half of 1890 bids fair to show a degree of activity that would have been deemed impossible even twelve or eighteen months ago.

Why Great Generals Have Roman Noses.

St. Louis Republican.]

The features are developed by the mind. A child that is reared amid pleasant surroundings and whose mind is filled with pleasant thoughts will have a pleasing face. The shape of the nose and chin will depend entirely upon the strength and character of the mental faculties. At 10 a boy's nose may be small and turned up at the end; at 15 it may have grown large and straight on top, and at 25 it may be a pronounced Roman.

It all depends upon his mind. The Romans had big noses with high bridges because they were a steady and determined race of people. Sturdiness and determination will give a man a Roman nose, no matter how little or how snubby a man's proboscis may have been when he was born.

The Greeks had straight, delicate, finely-chiseled noses because their taste was artistic and poetic. You never saw a poet or an artist with a Roman or a snub nose, did you? On the other hand, it would be hard to find a great general who had not a a Roman nose. Get pictures of Alexander the Great, Cæsar, Frederick the Great, Napoleon, Wellington, Washington, Grant, Sheridan or Lee, and see if they all haven't high, strong noses of the Romanesque type. Yet it is quite safe to say that if we could have portraits of all these personages, taken in infancy, we would find their olfactory organs little puggy affairs, not unlike those of the common run of babies. Those men were not great generals because they had Roman noses; they had Roman noses because they were great generals.

We, Too, Have an Empire on Which the Sun Never Sets.

New York Press.]

Webster's eloquent description of the British Empire is very readable, but we doubt whether it is generally realized that we, too, have a dominion on which the sun never sets. It will hardly be believed, perhaps, without an examination of the maps, that San Francisco, instead of being the west line of this dominion, is only about midway between our eastern and western limits; and yet it is a fact that the furtherest Aleutian isle acquired in our purchase of Russian America is as far to the west of that city as Eastport, Maine, is to the east of it. Between the northwest limit of Washington Territory and the southern limit of Alaska there is a break of a few degrees, but with the slightest reduction our territory extends through 196 degrees of longitude, or 16 degrees more than half round the globe.

Hence, when the sun is giving its good-night kiss to our westward isle, on the confluences of the Behring Sea, it is already flooding the fields and forests of Maine with its morning light, and in the eastern part of the State is more than half an hour high. At the very moment when the Aleutian fisherman, warned by the approaching shades of night, is pulling his canoe toward the shore, the wood-chopper of Maine is beginning to wake the forest echoes with his stirring music of the ax.

The Terror the Czar Inspires.

It is related of the Czar of Russia that when he was staying at Gatchina a man working in the grounds of the castle, every time he saw the Emperor approaching, ran away and hid himself; this occurred so often that the man was taken to task and asked the reason why he did this. He replied, "I am so afraid that the Czar, if he sees me, will take a great dislike to me, when perhaps I will be sent off to Siberia; so I hide myself to keep out of danger." This ingenuous answer shows how the great father, as he is sometimes styled, is regarded by his subjects.

GRADY, OF DUPLIN, NOMINATED.

Grady, of Duplin, was nominated at Clinton this morning for Congress in the Third District on the 178th ballot.

THE TRUE RING ABOUT IT.

The good sense and sound judgment with which the Alliance men of North Carolina have received the recent newspaper attack upon Senator Vance are very gratifying but not at all surprising. The members of the Farmers' Alliance of this State are white men—patriotic North Carolinians—Democrats; and, loving this people and the South, they are true to one of their country's most trusted leaders. The following to the Wilmington Star from the "State Line Alliance," Gibson's Station, is good reading:

WHEREAS, We regret to see in a recent publication in the Progressive Farmer the criticism of Senator Vance's letter addressed to President Carr expressing his views on the Sub-Treasury bill. Be it

Resolved, 1. That we, the members of the State Line Alliance No. 1134, do fully endorse the sentiments expressed by our champion leader, Senator Z. B. Vance. Be it

Resolved, 2. That we will not aid or support any candidate who will not work for the re-election of Senator Vance. Further, we noticed an editorial in one of the Republican papers commenting on the farmers' organization, and joyously predicting dissensions in the Democratic ranks through the Farmers' Alliance.

We feel confident that the Democratic ranks will grow stronger and not be in the least weakened by the farmers' organization, as is now predicted by some of the over-joyed Republicans. This organization does not aim to cause any divisions or dissensions in the Democratic ranks, far from it, their aim is unity.

NORTH CAROLINA "HISTORY."

The publishers of Mrs. Spencer's First Steps in North Carolina History, Messrs. Alfred Williams & Co., have been working for several months on extensive revisions and corrections of the book. The revision is specially directed by the State Board of Education and the author, and the work is being thoroughly done. The revised book will be ready by August 15th, and no copies of the book can be had until the new edition is ready. The few unsold copies of the first and second editions are withdrawn from market. The revised work includes several hundred changes in the text, and it is believed that the new book will be entirely satisfactory to the people of the State by reason of its greater accuracy.—Raleigh News and Observer.

"Greater accuracy" was ingeniously put by our worthy contemporary. But if any thing is accurate can it be otherwise? Then why say "greater accuracy?" If inaccurate, its publication should be suppressed, and we call upon every true North Carolinian to lend his aid to that purpose. Already this book has poisoned the tender minds of the youth of North Carolina, and while it may have been radically revised it must necessarily be impregnated with the spirit in which the first edition was written. It should therefore find no lodgment in any school-room throughout the confines of North Carolina. It was evidently written to be sold at the North, and there it should be sold.

THE JUDGE-ELECT.

Mr. James D. McIver, of Moore, who defeated Judge McRae, we do not know, but he is said to be a good, sound lawyer and a man of high personal character.—Wilmington Messenger.

Correct, Bro. Kingsbury. Capt. McIver is all that you impute to him, and more. He is every inch a man, a profound thinker, a ripe scholar, a lawyer of distinction and a man of experience and observation. With an unimpeachable integrity and high personal character, he will wear the judicial crown with credit to himself and honor to the "Old North State." Homogeneous by nature, with a clear mind and a familiarity with the law to a very remarkable degree that many years' experience at the bar will bring to his assistance, the people are content to believe that Capt. McIver will handle the scales of justice with an impartial hand, and ever prove himself worthy the honor conferred and the trust reposed in him.

THE "TRUE INWARDNESS."

Judge Womack's defeat was not due to any complaint against him, but was intended as a rebuke to Gov. Fowle for a fancied slight to Mr. Winston and his friends which they alleged he had cast upon them in not appointing Mr. Winston Judge last winter, when he appointed Judge Womack. We wonder if the Governor will receive a similar rebuke at the State convention for having appointed Judge Walter Clark to the Supreme Court?—Chatham Record.

Strange things have happened and in the "best regulated families," and not a thousand miles from here, either.

☞ A telegram from Paris, Texas, states that Judge Bryant of the Federal Court sentenced nine men to death on the 18th of this month. He has been on the bench only a few weeks. If he keeps it up he will decrease the population of the country considerably.

JUDGE MacRAE.

Judge McRae was defeated for renomination. There are no two opinions as to his qualifications as a Judge on the Circuit bench.—T. B. Kingsbury in the Messenger.

Indeed there is no better Judge on either the Circuit or the Supreme Court bench, as for that, and if the enthusiasm and unanimity with which the Laurinburg Judicial Convention passed a resolution recommending the name of Jas. C. McRae, of Cumberland, for the Supreme Court counts for anything, he will be one of the Associate Justices of that high tribunal at the State Convention.

The Question of Legality of the Recent Election of County Commissioners.

For the Observer.]

EDS. OBSERVER:—There is widespread dissatisfaction over the recent election of County Commissioners for Cumberland County, not because the high-toned gentlemen who were elected to this high position for the ensuing term are not in every respect amply qualified to fill the important position to which they were elected, but because two of the members-elect are not according to law eligible to the office of County Commissioner, by reason of the fact that they are Justices of the Peace, and were both taking an active part in the election in which they were elected contrary to the Law of North Carolina, Act of 1887, Sec. 1, Chap. 307, which plainly says that Sec. 716 of the Code be and the same is hereby amended by inserting in line seven, after the word "county," the words "excluding the Justices themselves."

This law makes special provision for 'Squire nobody; therefore Messrs. Cook and Gillis could not be legally elected to said office. They claimed to have resigned, perhaps the day of the election. Now, in the event that these gentlemen had tendered their resignations, to take effect at any time after the election of County Commissioners, they could not have been legally elected; and if their resignations had taken effect before said election they should have taken no part in said election as Justices of the Peace. Mr. Cook, instead of presiding over the meeting, should have called the meeting to order, and publicly announced his resignation as Justice of the Peace, and let the Board elect a chairman pro tem., and Mr. Gillis, instead of making the last motion in the meeting, and sustaining it by his vote, which elected W. D. Gaster by acclamation chairman of the board of magistrates, should have retired from the meeting. The present system of County Government makes the Justices of the Peace the electing power in elections of County Commissioners, and they ought to be vindicators and not violators of the law of their State. They should ever strive to be found worthy of the high trust reposed in them, and not act in a way that would bring reproach upon themselves and the good people whom they represent. Now, the people, sustained by the law, demand that the chairman of the board of justices of the peace call said board together for the purpose of electing an eligible Board of County Commissioners, and the people will not cease to press this demand until they are heard. "A word to the wise is sufficient." H.

Godwin, N. C., July 15, 1890.

[The question of electing a board of County Commissioners is a matter of public importance, and the mode of procedure is a matter which the public have a right to discuss pro and con. But, in order that justice may be done all parties concerned, we will state that first, the newly-elected Board of County Commissioners do not take their seats until the first Monday in December, when they will either accept or resign the offices to which they have been elected. For one, we think the record of Col. Cook in the past, as a Justice of the Peace, will warrant us in saying, and without reserve, that no fears need be entertained as to the legality of his final action in the premises. His administration of justice to all alike, as a justice of the peace, has been done with an impartial hand and given general satisfaction. As for Mr. Gillis those who are better acquainted with him will vouch for his impartial administration of the office of Justice of the Peace. At all events, these gentlemen are abundantly able and must take care of themselves, and they have at their command the use of the columns of the OBSERVER for the discussion of the matter in question so long as personal abuse and vituperation are omitted. We are for upholding the hands of the law at all events, and are unwilling to believe otherwise of the parties concerned.—EDS. OBSERVER.]

Cedar Creek Items.

For the Observer.]

The seasons have been beautiful for the past three weeks, and the cotton crop especially is very fine. The most of farmers are done plowing corn, but have the greater part of their cotton to plow again.

This section is well-blessed with good and progressive Sabbath schools and Sabbath school workers.

The Sabbath school at Macedonia Church at present has an enrollment of 96 scholars and teachers.

The Sunday school at Cedar Creek Church has an enrollment of about 125 scholars and teachers.

The Judson school at Judson Church has an enrollment of about 110 scholars and teachers, making a total membership of 331. The scholars are anticipating a nice time down to Wrightsville Beach on the 29th of July, and we think and hope that they will be well-represented on that occasion.

There will begin a protracted meeting at the Baptist Church at Macedonia on the fourth Sunday in this month, which will be conducted by Rev. C. Beard, of Bladen county, and also one will begin at the Baptist Church of Cedar Creek on the fourth Sunday in August, which will be conducted by the Rev. J. G. Fisher.

Mr. D. P. McDonald, of Harnett county, has been visiting relatives and friends here last week.

Miss Amanda Canady, at present one of Bladen's charming young ladies, but originally of this place, is now visiting her many friends and relatives here. D. C.

Col. Anthony of the Fourth Regiment Resigns.

Wilmington Star.]

Col. J. T. Anthony has tendered to the Governor his resignation of the command of the Fourth Regiment. In his letter to Gov. Fowle Col. Anthony says:

"Circumstances over which I have no control prompt me to take this action. I trust that your Excellency will accept my resignation at once."

His letter is dated July 18th. The cause which led to Col. Anthony's resignation was the granting of the Hornet's Nest Riflemen permission to go into camp with the First and Third regiments, over his disapproval of the same.

BRYAN, OF CRAVEN, NOMINATED.

Henry B. Bryan, of Craven, father of Mrs. Jno. B. Broadfoot, of this city, was yesterday nominated on the 56th ballot for Superior Court Judge in the 2nd Judicial District.

ANNOUNCEMENT.

For the Observer.]

The first Annual Fair of the Lumber River Industrial and Live Stock Association will be held at Red Springs, N. C., on Thursday, Friday and Saturday, the 14th, 15th and 16th of August, 1890, including the famous and time-honored Annual Picnic and Soldiers' Re-Union, which fall this year on Saturday the 16th.

Cheap railroad rates, both regular and excursion, have been secured.

The floor of the main exhibition hall—a handsom Greek cross—covers two thousand four hundred and twenty (2,420) square feet.

The grand stand—section of a covered amphitheatre—14x100 feet with large seating capacity, commands a full view of the race track, and also of the arena (250 yards in circumference) for parade of stock, tournament, exhibition of horsemanship, &c., &c.

Handsome pavilion for band and judges in centre of arena.

Under the amphitheatre are stalls for rent to parties wishing to furnish meals, sell fruits, refreshments, &c.

The grounds (22 acres) are spacious, shady, prettily located, near the Mineral Springs, in easy walking distance of the depot and hotels, and inside the corporate limits of the town

Intoxicating drinks cannot be sold in Red Springs township.

An efficient police force will be on the grounds and in the village, and disorderly persons (though it is believed there will be no occasion to do this) will be promptly dealt with.

First-class stalls for stock.

Provender for stock at cost.

Ample room for exhibition of agricultural implements, plows, mowers, reapers, machinery, engines, &c., &c., not requiring to be under cover.

Parties wishing to rent stalls and space for selling refreshments and other unobjectionable articles will apply to M. A. Buie, chairman of the committee.

In-door exhibits will be received and placed in position by Maj. J. R. McLean, Supt., assisted by the decoration committee, consisting of five ladies, and Messrs. Lacy Rankin, W. F. Buie and Dr. Alex Mack.

Out-door exhibits received and located by Messrs. Wm. F. Williams and B. W. Townsend, Sup'ts.

Exhibits of stock received and placed by Malcom C. McNeill.

Parties wishing information or assistance in procuring entertainment will apply to A. B. Pearsal in charge of Bureau of Information.

Exhibits will be received on Wednesday, August 13th, and it is hoped that all will be in position by 12 o'clock, M., on Thursday the 14th, so that the work of the awarding committee can promptly begin at that time, and the confusion, mistakes and omissions incident to hasty and superficial inspection in the closing moments be avoided.

Special premiums for upwards of $500.00 have already been pledged, and the total amount of premiums will probably approximate $1000.00.

Senator Vance says if he can possibly leave Washington he will be present and address the people. Chancellor W. D. Johnston, the well-known successful planter of Marion, S. C., and Hon. G. W. Sanderlin, an eloquent speaker of Raleigh, N. C., have been invited and it is hoped will be present and deliver addresses. Come one and all, and bring something to exhibit.

A. T. McCALLUM, Pres't.
R. T. COVINGTON, Sec'y.

Things seem to be getting pretty serious in the nighborhood of Wilmington as will be evinced by the following from the Wilmington Messenger of yesterday:

A man was killed back of the battery late this evening. He was a white man. He came down here this morning and had a little boy with him. They were walking in the woods just behind the battery when two men jumped out and mauled him to death. The boy ran for life.

When the news was received it could hardly be believed, but soon afterwards Coroner Jacobs was notified by telegraph and was requested to go down immediately. The name of the man killed was not given.

The news of this outrage immediately after being received rapidly spread from one end of the city to the other and excitement and indignation prevailed to an extent rarely ever witnessed in this staid old city. The most painful anxiety was manifested everywhere for the particulars and many persons remained up till after midnight to learn who the victim was, as neither dispatch gave his name.

No particulars of the tragedy could be learned until the train arrived from the Sound at 12:30 o'clock. It was then ascertained that the man was not a white man but a one-legged colored preacher, who lives two or three miles from Wrightsville. His name, however, could not be learned, as no one at the Sound seemed to know him.

It seems that he went to Wrightsville yesterday morning and sold chickens. He was accompanied by a boy eight or ten years of age. They left Wrightsville about 5 o'clock to go home, and the boy's story of the affair is, that while they were going along just beyond Mr. William Larkins' place, two men jumped out from the bushes and knocked the preacher down with clubs. The boy then ran but soon met a man driving a cart and told him the circumstances. The man and boy then hurried to the spot and found the preacher lying on the ground apparently dead.

Up to nearly 12 o'clock last night the body had not been moved, but later the man showed signs of life and he was removed to his home. At last accounts it was learned that he was not dead, but was very badly injured and was still unconscious. It is said by some that he was drinking before leaving Wrightsville, and many do not believe the story of robbery but are inclined to the opinion that he was accidentally hurt. This is very improbable, however, as the boy would have seen him when he got hurt and would hardly have made up such a story.

The fact that the victim of this latest outrage is colored does not lessen the enormity of the crime, and the same measures should therefore be adopted as if he were the whitest citizen in the county. As it was, the citizens on the streets last night were highly wrought upon by the shocking affair and impatience was expressed at the seeming apathy and inefficiency of the authorities to put an end to these outrages that have now existed here for more than a month. The determination was expressed to a man that there must be a stop put to it and it was freely threatened that if the authorities do not now move promptly, decisively and effectively that the citizens must needs take the law into their own hands. Many openly declared in favor of organizing vigilance committees, and lynch law was advocated as the means of reaching a solution of the troubles.

The Messenger would regret to see the temper of the people aroused to such a pitch, and we take this opportunity now to warn the authorities to do something to wipe out this blot upon the civilization of this community, or else telegraph poles and tree trunks in New Hanover county will be called into requisition to rid the city and country indiscriminately of all tramp suspects.

The issue of the paper was delayed this morning that we might give the OBSERVER readers the rest of the Clinton Convention.

BAD BLOOD.

Open Knives and Other Weapons Figure at a South Carolina Meeting.

Augusta Chronicle.]

The Tillmanites and Anti-Tillmanites had a meeting at Marion, S. C., last Thursday, which came very near proving an ugly affair.

"With the exception of one incident it was one of the quietest and best ordered meetings yet held. This incident occurred during Capt. Tillman's speech, and came near precipitating bloodshed. For several minutes the situation was thrilling in the extreme. It has been a custom of Capt. Tillman in all of his speeches to reflect severely up the Charleston News and Courier. In the course of his remarks he paid his usual compliments to that journal, referring to it as 'that infamous, lying sheet, which continually misrepresented him by lying headlines and otherwise.'

"Following a statement of this kind to day he told his audience to watch this meeting and watch the report in the News and Courier, and observe the difference.

"The meeting was being reported for the News and Courier by Mr. Shirley C. Hughson, one of the staff members of that paper. He was seated at the same table with the Chronicle correspondent, and as soon as Capt. Tillman made this remark Mr. Hughson sprang to his feet and said: 'Capt. Tillman, if you mean to say, sir, that I have misrepresented you, you are an infernal liar and the truth is not in you.'

"The two men were within five feet of each other, and the eyes of both sparkled with anger and resentment. Capt. Tillman turned around and faced the newspaper man, making some remark which was drowned by the noise. They stood glaring at each other for a moment or more, and in the meantime the crowd began to sway with excitement.

"A chorus of voices said: 'Put him off the stand!' 'Put him off the stand!' and a wild rush was made for the platform. Col. Earle, Gen. Bonham and other friends on the platform advanced and planted themselves at the side of Mr. Hughson, while a score or more Anti-Tillman men crowded on to the stage with open knives and other weapons of offense. Again and again the cry rang out: 'Put him off!' 'Put him off!'

"In obedience to the command three or four policemen with drawn clubs climbed on the banisters of the platform and started towards Mr. Hughson, who stood with one hand in his hip pocket and defied them to put their hands on him.

"Mr. Hughson in the meantime was completely surrounded by his friends and the policemen were forced back to the ground. The platform literally trembled under the weight and strain, and every moment threatened a hand-to-hand struggle between twenty or thirty men.

"Capt. Tillman appealed to his friends to keep quiet, but the only thing that prevented a row of the most serious nature was that the candidates and others blocked the passage to the stand, and thereby prevented the friends of Capt. Tillman from mounting it.

"When the excitement was at its height several of the candidates approached Mr. Hughson and commended his action, while he received an ovation at the hands of the Anti-Tillman men generally.

A Highwayman Arrested.

Wilmington Messenger.]

Deputy Sheriff Westley Westbrook, of Pender county, arrested a supposed highwayman a few days ago about twenty miles from the city on the Holly Shelter road. He was a negro and had been shot in the face. This led the officer to suspect him, and upon being questioned the man told several stories as to how he received his wound. Finally he said Mr. Bryant shot him. He had been hit in the face with a charge of small shot. Mr. Westbrook put hand-cuffs on his prisoner and carried him to Burgaw where he is in jail.

It will be remembered that some days ago Mr. Capps, the mail carrier on the star route from this city into Onslow county, was attacked by a highwayman some miles out from the city, and that a Mr. Bryant, of Onslow county, was with him at the time. They fired at the would-be robber but he escaped. It is believed now that the man arrested by Mr. Westbrook is the man who made the attack.

Distressing Fatality.

Greensboro Workman.]

A dispatch addressed to Mr. R. L. Vernon, of this place, was received yesterday, conveying the sad news that Mr. Willie Pepper, son of Rev. Mr. Pepper, of High Point, and a brother to Mrs. H. L. Fry, of this city, had been shot and killed on Saturday, at Oakland, Tenn. The particulars did not accompany the first dispatch, but will probably be at hand in time to appear with this brief announcement. The affair, like all of a similar nature, is one which imparts sadness and regret, calling for the unfeigned sympathy of the community.

Improvements.

For the Observer.]

EDS. OBSERVER:—I wish to have a short space in your paper in the next issue.

I have travelled over ten counties of this State this year, and can say there is more work being done in Cumberland county than either county in my travels.

Mr. S. C. Godwin, of Flea Hill township, has the finest corn I've seen. He has 20 acres of new swamp land estimated to make 2,500 bushels of corn. "GOOD."

Produced from the laxative and nutritious juice of California figs, combined with the medicinal virtues of plants known to be most beneficial to the human system, acts gently on the kidneys, liver and bowels, effectually cleansing the system, dispelling colds and headache, and curing habitual constipation.

The Pulpit and the Stage.

Rev. F. M. Shrout, Pastor United Brethren Church, Blue Mount, Kan., says: "I feel it my duty to tell what wonders Dr. King's New Discovery has done for me. My lungs were badly diseased, and my parishioners thought I could live only a few weeks. I took five bottles of Dr. King's New Discovery, and am sound and well, gaining 26 lbs. in weight."

Arthur Love, Manager Love's Funny Folks Combination, writes: "After a thorough trial and convincing evidence, I am confident Dr. King's New Discovery for Consumption beats 'em all, and cures when everything else fails. The greatest kindness I can do to my many thousand friends is to urge them to try it." Free trial bottles at B. E. Sedberry & Son's Drug Store. Regular sizes 50c. and $1.00.

TO THE AFFLICTED.

"The Blood and the Stomach is the Life—the derangement of either is productive of disease."

DR. KING'S ROYAL GERMETUER

is the greatest blood purifier and germ destroyer of the age. It tones the stomach, increases the appetite, purifies the secretions and quickly and permanently cures all blood, stomach, kidney, bladder, liver, and female diseases. As a tonic it is without a rival in the whole range of materia medica. It is a sovereign remedy, and never fails to cure rheumatism, neuralgia, paralysis, insomnia, dyspepsia, indigestion, debility, palpitation, catarrh, etc.

Hon. H. W. Grady says: "It is the Ultima Thule of all remedies."

Rev. Sam. P. Jones says: "I wish every suffering wife had access to that medicine."

Rev. J. B. Hawthorne says: "It has brought certain and radical cures to hundreds in Georgia and other States."

Mrs. Ella R. Tenneni, Editor Tennent's Home Magazine, says: "Its fame has spread like a prairie fire."

Dr. Jas. Young, the great temperance lecturer, says: "Oh! that every afflicted man and woman could get this grand remedy."

Thousands of others attest its virtues and sound its praise.

If you are sick, do not despair till you have tried Germetuer. It has performed cures that astonish the world.

If you are suffering with disease and fall of a cure, send stamp for printed matter, certificates of wonderful cures, etc.

For sale by King's Royal Germetuer Company, Atlanta, Ga., and by druggists. Price $1.50 per concentrated bottle, which makes one gallon of medicine as per directions accompanying each bottle. Can be sent by express C. O. D., if your druggist cannot supply you.

The Water of Life,
From Mount Vernon Springs, Chatham County, N. C.

LOCATION.

It is located in a beautiful little village, one mile from Ore Hill Station on the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., 40 miles south of Greensboro. The location is free from all malarial influences.

DESCRIPTION.

Here one finds mineral water of fine quality in a spring five feet deep. It is pleasant to the taste, cool and light as air itself. Marvellous cures in dyspepsia have been effected by the use of the water, and cutaneous diseases which have baffled medical skill have yielded to it. The water is not surpassed by any mineral water in the State.

It acts powerfully upon the kidneys, causes the urine to flow freely, and corrects entirely that extreme acidity of the urine which is often so painful; it also acts gently upon the bowels; it being especially good to aid digestion, stimulates the appetite, corrects the acidity of the stomach, and builds up the system.

It bubbles up through a crevice in a rock; wet or dry weather it never increases or diminishes in flow.

MT. VERNON SPRINGS HOTEL,

J. M. Foust, Owner and Proprietor, Mount Vernon Springs, N. C.

One mile from Ore Hill. Comfortable Rooms. Fare Good. Conveyance meet trains.

Terms: $1.50 to $2.00 per day; $7.00 per week; $20.00 to $25.00 per month of four weeks. Special rates to families. Correspondence solicited, and any information gladly given.

This place is second to none as a Summer Resort for those who like a quiet, home-like place. A charming spot to those who seek a place of rest and recreation.

The house is large and comfortable, with 500 feet of piazza running the entire length of the three buildings. The addition of 10 rooms at the west end gives 40 rooms. The rooms are large enough and well ventilated. From the piazza one overlooks the springs and scans the fine prospect beyond.

Around the premises is a dense oak forest through which comes a bracing breeze.

For the amusement of the guests there is a good ten pin alley and ball room. Beautiful shady walks and drives in every direction.

It may be truthfully said nature has done a wonderful part here.

No mosquitoes nor gnats. No stagnant water any where near. The drainage is perfect.

"Attention, Ladies of Cumberland Co."

DR. McGILL'S Orange Blossom cures and is worth its weight in gold to any suffering girl or woman. By addressing Mrs. B. F. Miller, Defiance, N. C., and enclosing a 2 cent stamp, ladies of Cumberland County will receive free of charge, a sample box of this valuable remedy, Dr. McGill's plain talk to the ladies, and full particulars, as over ten thousand ladies in North Carolina alone have tested the merits of this wonderful cure, and many of them have requested that their names be given for reference. Those who wish to enquire can easily be convinced that whatever the failures of the past have been, we have in Orange Blossom a permanent and entirely safe cure for the stubborn forms of female weakness which have so baffled the skill of our best physicians, and held the mothers and daughters of our land prisoners in their iron grasp.

TOWN AND COUNTY.

A Pleasant Resort.

Mr. J. M. Foust, the accommodating proprietor of the Mount Vernon Springs hotel, tells us his resort is receiving a very flattering patronage this season; there are at present over fifty guests in the house. There is room for others, however.

Ladies' Memorial Association.

In pursuance of a call by its president, Mrs. N. A. Sinclair, there will be held a meeting of the Ladies' Memorial Association to-morrow (Friday) afternoon at 6 o'clock at the residence of Mrs. A. S. Huske. All ladies interested in the work of the society are requested to attend.

Vote of Thanks.

At at meeting of the F. I. L. I. Co., held at its armory on Monday evening it was unanimously resolved that a vote of thanks be tendered the ladies of Fayetteville for their kind and successful efforts to make the festival of last Friday evening both profitable and pleasant.

LEIGHTON HUSKE,
Secretary.

The Work to Be Pushed.

The location has been made of the southern extension of the Fayetteville & Wilson branch of the Atlantic Coast Line R. R., and the work of grading and construction will probably begin about the latter part of next month or the 1st of September. The distance to Rowland is a fraction over 41 miles, and the line crosses the Carolina Central Railway about 12 miles east of Maxton.

The Festival.

The festival on Friday night last, for the benefit of the Armory Fund of the Independent Light Infantry, was as successful as could have been expected under the unauspicious circumstances—showing the popularity of the object of the entertainment. The night was very stormy—decidedly the most inclement of the season—keeping at least half the crowd at home; but, despite all this, the net proceeds amounted to something over $40.00.

A Distressing Accident.

On Tuesday morning, 15th inst, Julia Graddy, aged 9 years, a daughter of Mr. J. C. Graddy, fell from a window of the second story of Bluff Mills, a height of over twenty feet. Strange to say, no bones were broken, but the child was terribly bruised about the face and arms. Dr. A. McDougald was summoned at once, and rendered the proper aid. She is now doing as well as could be expected, and Dr. McDougald thinks that she will recover.

A Difficulty at Depot.

Intense excitement was created at the depot shortly after the arrival of the down train on Tuesday, growing out of a personal difficulty between Mr. Weldon Schenck, Asst. Adjt. Gen'l N. C. S. G., and Mr. Chas. A. McNeill, of Carthage. Sheriff Smith, with his characteristic promptness, arrested the parties, and they were bound over for subsequent examination of the matter, Mr. Schenck going on down to the encampment, and Mr. McNeill on to Clinton, where he is a delegate.

Religious Notes.

Rev. W. B. Harrell, of Dunn, occupied the pulpit of the 1st Baptist Church last Sunday, greatly edifying the congregation by an impressive sermon from Exodus 12:13. He preaches again next Sunday.

Rev. Dr. J. C. Huske will conduct services at St. Thomas Chapel on Sunday next at 11:00 A. M.

Preaching at the Presbyterian Church next Sunday morning and night by the pastor, Rev. T. P. Barclay.

Mr. Barclay has been enjoying a part of his vacation by assisting Dr. Mack in a meeting at the old Bluff Church. The members of the church were greatly revived and forty-seven new members were added on confession of faith.

Attention, Please.

Your attention is directed this week especially to the following new advertisements:

BOARDERS.
C. A. HOLLAND—Self-Priming Pumps.
ROSE & LEAK—Does Advertising Pay?
M. L. OGLESBY—Buffalo Lithia Springs.
A. J. COOK & Co.—Buist's New Crop Turnip Seed.
R. M. NIMOCKS—Notice of Sale under Mortgage.
W. E. KYLE—Reduced Rates to Wrightsville Beach.
YAEGER FLOUR MILLS CO.—Capacity 800 Barrels per Day.
H. WADE, D. A. MCPHAIL, J. H. MCPHAIL—Notice of Dissolution of Copartnership.

Fatal Accident.

On Monday morning at 3 o'clock T. E. Adams, a brakeman on the C. F. & Y. V. R'y through freight, was instantly killed at Sanford while coupling cars. Mr. Adams was standing off the track, and leaning forward in the act of coupling a box- and timber-car got his head caught between the end of a jutting piece of timber on on the flat-car and the buffer of the box-car. His skull was fractured and death was almost instantaneous. He was an industrious young man and much liked by the R. R. authorities. Mr. Adams was a native of Greensboro where he was highly respected by the entire community.

Notes of Travel.

Our esteemed friend and valued correspondent, "J. E.," of Idaho, turned up his nose at the Farmers' Exchange the other day, put on his chipper little duster, stuck a blue cotton umbrella under his arm, and started for the mountains—and this is the way he tells the readers of the OBSERVER all about it:

Dixie Gilmer scored an emphatic success (for his tourists) on the 15th inst. I have not heard of a single person who regretted the trip; on the contrary, all expressed themselves as highly pleased, and unanimously decided that Dixie knows how to run an excursion.

From Fayetteville to the mountains we speeded on good time, to be met at the Mt. Airy depot by quite a large crowd in waiting, and to find comfortable quarters at the Hotel Roberts, which, by the way, will be a very spacious and convenient house of entertainment when completed. On Wednesday morning quite a number of the excursionists started for the Blue Ridge, reaching Fancy Gap about noon. Our party (Messrs. Brandt, Rankin, Deming and the writer) enjoyed a good dinner at Mr. Mitchell's, who, though living on top of the Blue Ridge, on a difficult road, far from market, sets a fine table, knowing well how to entertain and interest the weary traveler, and, too, at small expense. The ride up the mountain was very rugged and precipitous: the mountain wall on one side and deep ravines on the other. At Elk Spur, one of the highest points, the scenery is grand, taking in at one view several counties of Virginia on the north, and as many more counties of North Carolina on the south—a wonder to us of the lowlands of old Cumberland. The Pilot and other mountains were in full view from our standpoint, some of them from 75 to 100 miles distant.

We explored the "Devil's Den," quite a romantic-looking place as you enter, mighty rocks overhanging the entrance. Following the guide with his lantern, we got well underground, past all signs of life except the bats flying above one's head, and producing a horrible sensation. The price of admission to this cave is rather steep, unless better arrangements were made for entering.

The scenery from Mt. Airy to the top of the Blue Ridge is well worth the trouble and expense of the trip. After one day's ramble we were very willing to retire; so we did not take any hand in the frolic and dance which lasted to an early hour.

On Thursday morning early we went to the renowned White Sulphur Springs. Our stay being limited, we drank all the water we possibly could, but passed a favorable opinion as to its medicinal qualities from what we drank. Mr. Roberts, the proprietor, "knows how to keep a hotel;" and, though it is not a very stylish house outwardly, everything inside was in good order and the fare very good. The visitors, quite a number, seemed to enjoy their stay and will, I hope, return home benefited as much as had they been drinking Saratoga water at much more expense; and thus prove to the world that we have as good water and fine scenery in the old North State as any other beneath the sun.

We reached Fayetteville about 3:40 P. M., 18th inst., and felt very much like voting thanks and three cheers to Dixie Gilmer and the C. F. & Y. V. R'y for a very pleasant, agreeable and beneficial excursion. J. E.

Merited Honors Gracefully Paid.

The following from the State Chronicle will meet with a hearty response from not only the people of this Judicial District but of the whole State—wherever conspicuous ability and fitness for office are appreciated:

The friends of Hon. Jas. C. MacRae—(and he has a host of them from Murphy to Manteo, as the Chronicle happens to know)—will deeply regret that he was not renominated for the high position which he has filled for ten years with such ability and acceptability as to give him a reputation not bounded by State lines. In no point has he failed as an able, upright and impartial Judge, and he will retire from the bench with a reputation second to that of no man who has presided over the Superior Courts of the State in half a century.

There is no way of accounting for his failure to secure a renomination except upon the grounds that his popular opponent's friends were most active in the early stages of the fight. We have been in nearly every county in the State, and the universal esteem in which Judge MacRae is held evidences his worth and ability.

Tribute to a Friend and Fellow-Worker.

Mr. Hood, a successful farmer of Mecklenburg, and representing that county in the last General Assembly, writes to the OBSERVER as follows:

In the list of probable candidates of the next House of Representatives of the State Legislature I am pleased to see the name of Thos. H. Sutton, Esq., of Cumberland. Having been with him in the last House, where I served with him on committees, I had perhaps as good a chance as any man in that body to know him; and if faithfulness and unswerving fidelity to the interests of the people, and devotion and loyalty to all classes, merit anything he ought to be renominated by acclamation.

It has been charged that the farmers are combining together to capture all the offices. This is not true. The farmers are contending for a principle which involves the best interests of all the professions; and the man who stands so steadfastly by such principles as did Col. Sutton in the last legislature is entitled to their support. Equal rights to all and special privileges to none was his motto.

Superior Court.

Superior Court convened on Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, his Honor Judge Graves on the bench and Mr. Frank McNeill Solicitor. The Judge's charge to the Grand Jury (Mr. W. J. Smith foreman) was very complete, explicit and comprehensive. The crowd in attedance on court is unusually large. The following cases were disposed of up to noon yesterday:

State vs. Amanda McNeill. Larceny. Guilty. Sentence not pronounced.

State vs. Jno. R. Hall. Indecent exposure. Verdict not guilty.

State vs. John G. Black. Assault and battery with deadly weapon. Verdict guilty. Sentence $5.00 fine and costs.

State vs. Jeffrey McNeill. Maiming stock. Defendant submits. Judgment suspended on payment of costs.

State vs. Silas Murphy. Removing crop without paying rent. Verdict guilty. Sentence not pronounced.

State vs. M. C. Hart. Assault and battery. Defendant submits. Sentence $25 and costs.

State vs. Chas. Elliott. Bigamy. Defendant sentenced to two years in State penitentiary.

A Gathering of the Clans.

Green Street, in front of the Overbaugh House, presented an animated scene on Tuesday morning last—crowded with hacks and other conveyances to carry the delegates to the Clinton Convention.

Mr. P. P. Jones, of the Dunn Bar, is attending Court here this week.

A Novel Entertainment.

We are requested to state that there will be given on Thursday evening, the 31st inst. at their armory an entertainment for the benefit of the F. I. L. I. armory fund. This will not be a "festival," but something altogether new and novel, embracing features heretofore unknown in Fayetteville, and comprising a most attractive programme. There is some talk of a baby show during the afternoon, and if the managers are successful in completing their arrangements, there will be a fighting chance for all proud fathers to capture a prize that will be both handsome and useful. The supreme cherub will be selected by a number of just and impartial judges.

We have been initiated into some of the mysteries of the proposed programme and can safely promise the pleasure-loving public a list of attractions well worth the expenditure of the small amount of time and money necessary to participation.

All ladies who are willing to assist in this laudable endeavor on the part of the friends of this time-honored institution are requested to meet the committee at the F. I. L. I. armory tomorrow (Friday) afternoon a 5 o'clock for the purpose of lending their aid to the furtherance of the entertainment.

There'll be Music in the Air.

The "Fayetteville Democratic Band" has been organized, Messrs. Z. T. Jobe and Jas. Wright leaders, with 13 pieces—as fine instruments as can be found in the State or in the South, of which their manufacturers say they are "model pieces," with all the latest improvements in style and workmanship. The personnel of the band is very fine, and Fayetteville will be "well-heeled" in good music hereafter—and good Democratic music, that's the best of it.

Daily Freight Between Fayetteville and Wilmington.

The C. F. & Y. V. Railroad is ever alive to the needs and wants of the public. So great has been the increase of traffic of the Wilmington division of late that, commencing with last Monday, July 21st, this line will run a daily freight between Fayetteville and Wilmington, by which additional means of transportation will be afforded the public. The OBSERVER hails this evidence of prosperity with delight. A road with such a corps of affable and accommodating officers as the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. can boast of, it could not be otherwise.

Personal Pencilings.

Capt. A. B. Williams spent Sunday with his family at Mt. Airy.

Miss Eliza Williams has been visiting Mt. Airy and White Sulphur Springs.

Mrs. Robt. Haigh and Mrs. S. A. Taylor are spending a few days at Southport.

Capt. J. A. McPherson's family, of 71st, are spending a few days at the seashore.

Many warm friends were glad to see Col. T. J. Jones in Fayetteville within the past week.

Mrs. T. C. Lewis, of Wilmington, is on a pleasant visit to friends and relatives in Fayetteville.

Mr. Frank Coddard, now stationed at Savannah, Ga., is paying a visit to his former home.

Mr. F. R. Rose and family are at Old Point Comfort, Va., for a few days during the heated term.

Mr. P. M. Smith, of the A. C. L. corps of engineers, is in the city on a visit to friends and relations.

Mrs. R. M. Nimocks, accompanied by Miss Carrie Nimocks, are at the Mt. Airy White Sulphur Springs.

Mr. E. J. Fuller, of this city, left on Tuesday afternoon for the seashore where he will spend some weeks.

Mrs. E. L. Pemberton has returned from a pleasant sojourn of a few weeks at Mt. Airy and White Sulphur Springs.

We are glad to see "Judge" Lake, of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R., able to be at his post of duty again after a brief illness.

Rev. P. H. Hoge, of Wilmington, was here a short while Monday on his return to Wilmington from a mountain cruise.

Capt. J. W. Fry, General Manager of the C. F. & Y. V. R. R. passed through the city Monday afternoon enroute to Wilmington.

Messrs. Brandt, Rankin, Deming and other "City Fathers," patronized Dixie Gilmer's excursion, and "took in" the top of the Blue Ridge during their jaunt.

Mr. J. A. Steele, one of Messrs. Rose & Leak's polite and accommodating clerks, returned on Tuesday from Carolina Beach where he has been spending a short vacation.

Mr. J. C. Jackson, one of the progressive young business men of Moore county, paid us a call on Monday. He will attend the Clinton Convention, and will spend a short time here on his return.

Dr. J. W. McNeill's family are spending a few days at Carolina Beach. Also Mrs. W. S. Cook accompanied by Miss Kate Mitchell, Mr. H. I. McDuffie and family, and Capt. Sandy Robeson's family.

Col. W. T. Gray, of Winston, accompanied by Mr. Walter Grimes, passed through the city Monday for Wrightsville. The Forsyth Rifles of that live town passed down to Wrightsville Tuesday.

Mr. M. E. Dye's family have been enjoying the cooling and refreshing waters of Bolton Springs for the past week. Mr. D. McD. Grady and wife are also enjoying the quietude and pleasures of this delightful retreat and health-giving waters.

Maj. Saml. H. Smith, of Winston, Assistant Adjutant General of the N. C. State Guard, passed through last Saturday enroute to Wrightsville, whither he goes to make some preliminary arrangements preparatory to the arrival of the Second Regiment which goes into camp there this week.

Mr. R. C. Johnson, a native of Fayetteville, but now residing at Galveston, Tex., and engaged in the publication of the Opera Glass, a leading society paper of the Southwest, is making a visit to the place of his birth after an absence of many years. Mr. Johnson is one of the representative men of Galveston and has achieved a success remarkable in one young.

Manchester Cullings.

For the Observer.]

The protracted meeting at the Baptist church is well attended these bright nights.

Visitors from everywhere—lovely visitors, too. Miss Nannie Little from Little's Mills, and Mamie Bidgood from Richmond, Va., are making a sojourn here; Mrs. W. J. McDiarmid and Miss Mattie Williams are also here; Misses Janie and Winnie Hicks are visiting their friend, Miss Janie McDiarmid. They are all at Spout Spring now with Mrs. M. McD. Williams.

Mr. Morton and family from Baltimore, have rented Montelise and are now residing there.

McFadyen's is booming—five families out there. Drives and boating are the order of the day.

Letters have been received from Mr. H. J. Kivett, who with his family arrived safely at Waco, Texas, on the 24th of June, he having been offered by the Waco Manufacturing Company the position which had been filled by his late father, D. L. Kivett formerly of Manchester, N. C.

Miss Maggie Hall left here Monday for Wilmington.

The sojourn of "Speaker Carlisle" is quite an event in our hamlet.

Mr. Walter Leak, Mr. Henry Marsh, Capt. Southerland, Mr. Moore and Mr. Jno. Underwood found some attraction out our way Sunday and came hither.

BON AMI.

People Attacked on the Streets.

Wilmington Messenger.]

Last Saturday night about 12 o'clock while a merchant was returning to his home on Fifth street between Castle and Queen, a colored man approached him at Fourth and Castle and asked him where a certain store was in that vicinity. His question was answered and the gentleman was proceeding when the man again approached him near the market house and asked other questions which were also answered. The man was standing in the gentleman's way and as he went to pass around him to go on his way the fellow intercepted him and drew a stick from beneath his arm. The gentleman suddenly rammed a pistol in the man's face, however, and he fled. Inasmuch as the man ran, he did not fire at him, for the reason also that no actual attempt was made to rob him.

On Sunday night near the same place Mr. Ephraim Greer, who lives on Sixth street between Queen and Castle, was halted by a colored man who demanded his money. Mr. Greer being unarmed, immediately ran for his home and was hotly pursued to his own gate.

DIED.

CARVER—Again has death, the reaper, put his sickle in, and another member of this much bereaved family lies low.

JESSE JUNIUS, youngest son of Jesse B. and Mary H. Carver, was born April 16th, 1871, and died at Lakeland, Fla., June 24th, 1890.

Brief is the record of this young, joyous life. The idol of the household; the genial school-mate and friend; a brief season of travel and earnest, cheerful labor with a dear brother; a fever and a sleep, and the spirit returned to God who gave it:—

"Ere the heart had grown familiar with the paths of sin,
And sown, to garner up, its bitter fruit."

His body rests beside his mother's at the old homestead. From seeds of Divine truth sown in tears in the heart of this child of many prayers we look for fruit in Paradise.

The Everlasting Arms upon the parent-stem shorn of his strength, and pour the Spirit's balm into each bleeding heart. C.

SELF-PRIMING PUMPS.

We take great pleasure in calling the attention of the trade to the advantages this pump has over the common style pump. The valve of the common style pump being on bottom, and collects under the valve and causes the water to leak out of pump; the pump has to be primed with water to get a suction, which is very inconvenient.

The Self Priming Pump overcomes this trouble, as the valve is on a tube extending up in pump four inches (if sand collects under the valve, which is almost impossible) the valve being four inches above bottom of pump the water will stand four inches deep, which is sufficient to start the pump without priming with water. The packing being always under water, it will last a greater length of time without repacking. It is arranged with drain plug to let off water to prevent freezing.

Compare the two pumps before buying, as the self-primer will save you trouble and expense.

Sold by the hardware trade generally.

Hundreds sold every week.

BUFFALO

LITHIA SPRINGS

OF VIRGINIA.

SPRING No. 1.

Malarious Fevers, Affections Peculiar to Women, Atonic Dyspepsia, etc.

Dr. Wm. T. Howard, of Baltimore, Professor of Diseases of Women and Children, in the University of Maryland:

"For twenty-five years of my professional life I resided in the town of Warrenton, N. C., some forty miles distant from the Buffalo Springs, and sent many patients to them, thus having ample opportunity of observing the effects of the Water, and I feel fully warranted in saying that nothing but the want of mountain air, the paucity of the accommodations hitherto, and the small pains taken to bring it before the public, could possibly have prevented its taking rank with that of the far-famed White Sulphur Springs in Greenbrier county, West Virginia.

"Indeed, in a certain class of cases, it is much superior to the latter. I allude to the abiding debility attendant upon the tardy convalescence from grave acute diseases, and more especially to the cachexia and sequels incident to Malarious Fevers, in all their grades and varieties, to certain forms of Atonic Dyspepsia and all the affections peculiar to women that are remediable at all by mineral waters. In short, were I called upon to state from what mineral waters I have seen the greatest and most unmistakable amount of good accrue in the largest number of cases in a general way, I would unhesitatingly say the Buffalo Springs, in Mecklenburg county, Virginia."

Nerve Tonic Properties

—OF—

SPRING No. 1.

Nervous Dyspepsia, Diseases of Women, Albuminuria of Pregnancy, Disorders of Teethings Infants, etc.

Dr. John H. Tucker, Henderson, N. C., Member of the Medical Society of North Carolina, Member of the American Medical Association:

"The action of the Buffalo Lithia Water, Spring No. 1, is that of a decided Nerve Tonic. Nervous Dyspepsia with its train of distressing symptoms is promptly and permanently relieved by it. In many of the diseases peculiar to women—Menstrual Irregularities, Suppression and the many functional derangements resulting from chloro-anemic conditions I prescribe this water with almost the same confidence that I do quinine in chills and fever. In Albuminuria of pregnant women it has proved a great blessing.

"I have observed marked beneficial results from its uses in the disorders of Teething Infants. I have sent many patients of this class to the Springs for the use of this water, and, without exception, they have returned to me cured or greatly benefited."

Prospectus of the Fayetteville Graded School.

The next session of the above school will begin on MONDAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd, 1890, at the Donaldson Academy buildings, and will be conducted on same plan as has proven so successful for the past year. Children of parents living in Cross Creek district will be received in all the common school grades free.

Children of parents outside of Cross Creek will be required to pay fifteen dollars tuition for any of the common school grades. Patrons of the higher or Latin grades will be required, before receiving certificates of scholarship, which entitle their children to enter school, to give their notes as heretofore for tuition at the following rates

For 1st Latin grade twenty dollars.
For 2nd Latin grade twenty-five dollars.
For 3rd Latin grade twenty-five dollars.
For 4th Latin grade thirty dollars.

If sufficient encouragement is offered the school will be advanced one grade higher at tuition of thirty-five dollars, which will enable patrons to keep their sons and daughters at home for another year, and thereby save the hundreds of dollars which education costs in other schools at other places.

All patrons are asked to come forward at once and make the necessary arrangements with the Executive Committee and take their certificates of scholarship.

The Trustees desire to elect as soon as possible a full corps of teachers.

Delay in applying for certificates leaves trustees, teachers and all concerned in embarrassing doubt and uncertainty. We appeal to our patrons not to put off this matter to the last moment.

Again pointing with pride to our past record and good work, we ask for generous, hearty and prompt support.

A COMPARISON.

I'd ruther lay out here among the trees,
With the singing birds and the bum'l bees,
A-knowing that I can do as I please,
Than to live what folks call a life of ease
Up thar in the city.

Fer I really don't 'xactly understan'
Where the comfort is fer any man
In walkin' hot bricks an' usin' a fan,
An' enjoyin' himself as he says he can
Up thar in the city.

It's kinder lonsome, mebbe you'll say,
A-livin' out here day after day
In this kinder easy, careless way,
But a hour out here is better'n a day
Up thar in the city.

As fer that, jus' look at the flowers aroun'
A-peepin' their heads up all over the groun',
An' the fruit a-bendin' the trees 'way down,
You don't find such things as these in town,
Or, ruther, in the city.

As I said afore, such things as these,
The flowers, the birds and the bum'l bees,
An' a-livin' out here among the trees,
Where you can take your ease, an' do as you please,
Makes it better'n the city.

Now, all the talk don't 'mount to snuff
'Bout this kinder life a-bein' rough,
An' I'm sure it's plenty good enough,
An' 'tween you an' me, 't ain't half as tough
As livin' in the city.

THAT SUMMER GIRL.

She's the jauntiest of creatures, she's the daintiest of misses—
With her pretty patent leathers or her alligator ties,
With her eyes inviting glances and her lips inviting kisses,
As she wanders by the ocean or strolls under country skies.

She's a trifle sentimental, and she's fond of admiration,
And she sometimes flirts a little in the season's giddy whirl;
But win her if you can, sir, she may prove your life's salvation,
For an angel masquerading oft she is—the summer girl.

—Ella Wheeler Wilcox.

Fowls and Eggs for Market.

In raising fowls for market flesh is the first consideration. Select, therefore, a breed that will make the greatest growth in the shortest time, and be of good quality for the table. Select according to the requirements of your own special market and your fancy—Langshams, Brahmas, Plymouth Rocks, Wyandottes, Javas or Dorkings. These varieties, with their crosses, are hardy, and, if intelligently fed, attain a large size at an early age. The Wyandotte just now is a popular fowl, the silvers, goldens and blacks all having enthusiastic admirers; the white Wyandottes are also receiving high praise from their advocates. It is claimed that they are not only ornamental in the yard and toothsome of flesh but good breeders as well. The dark Brahmas are classed by many breeders as the best of the Brahma varieties.

With careful management none of our small industries are more profitable than raising eggs for the city markets. When eggs alone are desired the fowls selected should be Leghorns, white-faced black Spanish, Minorcas or other laying breeds. Avoid the common mistake of giving too much stimulating food. Bear in mind the elements that enter into the composition of an egg, and feed accordingly. Oats, wheat and barley are all good for eggs, with just enough corn to supply the proper degree of heat. A sudden change from one kind of grain to another will often stop hens from laying for a short time, as will sudden change of any feed. Whole corn, being hard to digest, should be given very sparingly to laying pullets. Supplement the food of laying hens with an occasional relish of ground bone, chopped meat and charcoal.

Feeding Swine.

In order to obtain the very best results all around the pigs should be taught to eat as early in life as possible. In some cases this will be when they are about two weeks old. The time of teaching them to eat will vary. The size of the litter in some cases, and in others the amount of milk given by the dam, will govern it. Teaching them to eat is best accomplished by placing a small trough out of reach of the dam, and supplying it with warm, sweet skimmed milk and sonked maize. When the pigs get to eating fairly be careful to increase the feed as gradually as their power of assimilation increases.

Right here care should be exercised in feeding the dam. Avoid letting her get "off her feed." There is nothing so well adapted to the growth of young pigs as their dams' milk. While feeding the pigs liberally, the dam should be fed all she will eat of the food best calculated to make her give large quantities of milk. Good shorts mixed with bran, or the shorts alone made into a slop and soaked between feeds, accompanied by a few ears of corn, make a good milk-producing ration.

Vigor in Poultry.

No flock of poultry will pay unless vigorous and healthy. If your fowls are often sick while those of your neighbors appear in good health, both having good management, it indicates constitutional defect of some kind and lack of vigor. It requires too much time to attempt to breed vigor into such fowls, and nothing short of a complete change of stock can effect a cure. Vigor in the flock means plenty of eggs, healthy birds, wholesome meat on the table and less work in the care and management of both adults and chicks.

Cows Roaming Too Much.

It is dreadful waste of cow force, says a prominent dairy writer, to turn her out where she roams over several hundred acres of land. She will be doing so nearly all day if there is no fence to stop her, and will be sure to do it if the pasture is thin and scarce. She had better be fed what she needs on a small space, and then lie down and attend to her legitimate business on earth—making milk.

New Breeds.

There is time enough to try new breeds of animals after you have thoroughly tested some of the old and reliable varieties. Many new breeds are only novelties, and last but a short time. The breeds which have been in use for one or two decades are well recommended by their length of service. The older the breed the better the guarantee that it is meritorious. "Scrub" stock will not pay, but neither is everything profitable because of a fancy name.

From Hand to Mouth.

She gave her fingers at parting,
And he tenderly pressed their tips;
And satisfied not, as he bolder grew,
He lifted them to his lips.

His grasp grew ardently closer,
And her face flushed rosily red;
He swept a kiss to the proper place:—
"From hand to mouth," he said.

Did His Best.

Henry—So you asked old Growler for his daughter last night, did you, Fred? And how did you come out?

Fred—It was a window, I believe, Henry. That was the best I could do, though.

☞ Teacher—In which of his battles was Gustavus Adolphus killed?

Pupil (after reflection)—I think it was the last one.

JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE!

The Great Virginia Vegetable Alterative,
BLOOD PURIFIER AND RENOVATOR
—OF THE—
HUMAN SYSTEM!

Has been used most successfully in the following Diseases, as the Certificates below will attest:

For Liver Complaint, Jaundice and Bilious Derangement. In Mercurial, Blood Poison, Scrofulous and all Eruptive Diseases, Costiveness, Indigestion Flatulence, Periodical Sick Headache and Female Complaints.

READ THE CERTIFICATES.

From Virginia Medical Monthly (September number, 1889) Landon B. Edwards, M. D., editor and proprietor, Richmond:

"THE NOLANDINE COMPANY, of Richmond, Va., begin an advertisement in this issue of preparations which have received the highest kind of professional endorsements for the cure of chills and fever, functional liver troubles, etc. The virtues of the drugs named seem to rest in the special manner of their combination. During a recent visit to the laboratory we were courteously shown every detail of the manufacture."

I have used your vegetable preparation, "NOLANDINE," and find it a valuable agent in the treatment of functional diseases of the liver. Its action on that organ and all secreting glands is equal to that of calomel, and to my mind, the only yet discovered substitute for this time-honored remedy. It is, furthermore, entirely free from constitutional effects too often observed from the use of mercurials; and, in many cases, where mercurials have been incautiously administered, I have witnessed the beneficial results of "NOLANDINE," in eliminating and modifying the most distressing after symptoms. I will add, in regard to your Fever and Ague Preparation, that I prescribed it for my mother, who had been a sufferer from chills and fever for twelve months. She had taken quinine until it had ceased to have any effect on her. One-half bottle of my NOLANDINE for chills and fever relieved her entirely of the chills and restored her to good health.

I cheerfully recommend the trial of OLADIE to the profession, believing that it will stand their test

Very truly yours, A. TRENT CLARKE, M. D.

The very high character of the testimonials attesting the merits of your vegetable preparation, NOLANDINE, induced me to make a test of your NOLANDINE proper in a very desperate case of Hydrothrax [dropsy of the chest], combined with Ascites [dropsy of abdomen]. The usual remedies known to our profession had been most skilfully administered without producing anticipated effects. The diseases yielded to the action of your NOLANDINE. I very gratefully state that my patient is now enjoying the blessings of a restoration to good health, and now, four months since administering your NOLANDINE, there is not a symptom of recurrence.

I had several opportunities of testing the merits of your NOLANDINE for chills and fever in cases which had resisted the usual remedies for months, and had the satisfaction to see them entirely broken and permanently cured after a course of your NOLANDINE.

I know that I will incur the displeasure of the profession by departing from its usages, but candor and facts compel me to call the attention of my professional brethren to the valuable properties of your preparation, and trust that prejudice will not deter them from its use. I have found the action of your NOLANDINE on the liver and secretions more than equal to calomel, which is an additional recommendation.

Very respectfully, A. G. JONES, M. D.

409 EAST CLAY STREET, RICHMOND, VA., April 19, 1887.

J. W. Johnston, Proprietor of Nolandine:

During the last twelve months I have had frequent opportunities of testing the curative properties of your VEGETABLE NOLANDINE in the following diseases, and in not a single case did it fail to accomplish all that you claim for it: Dyspepsia and other catarrhal affections of the stomach and bowels, catarrhal affections of the kidneys and bladder, uterine catarrh and irregularities, malarial complications and habitual constipation, and as a general tonic and alterative, I have round it very efficacious.

Yours truly, JAS. A. GARLICK, M. D.

IRWIN P. O., GOOCHLAND, VA., August 1, 1889

To the Nolandine Company, Richmond, Va.:

From personal experience I can very cheerfully recommend NOLANDINE for all it claims, and, in this opinion, I am borne out by others who have tested its merits.

Yours truly, G. H. PALMER MOREWOOD.

TAYLORSVILLE, HANOVER COUNTY, VA.

The Nolandine Company, Richmond, Va.:

Gentlemen:—I have been a great sufferer from blood poison, which caused large sores to come all over my legs and feet, so that I could hardly wear my shoes, when I received a bottle of NOLANDINE from a friend. I began using it at once, and in less than ten days it had cured me completely. I think it the best remedy in the world. I am yours very respectfully, WM. M. TERRY.

To the Nolandine Company: June 1, 1889.

Permit me to add my testimony to the curative properties of NOLANDINE. For many years I have suffered from varicose veins. Twelve months ago I struck my leg against a chair, breaking one of the veins. The wound thus made could not be healed, except for a short time, then break out afresh. At times I suffered untold misery from local fever and most insufferable burning sensation. After using two (2) bottles of your VEGETABLE NOLANDINE the ulcerated places healed, the swelling disappeared, natural sleep was restored, and my nervous system composed. As a vermifuge, NOLANDINE acted specifically on one of my children. As a blood purifier and general tonic your NOLANDINE has no equal.

Gratefully yours, D. B. PROSSER.
At S. S. Cottrell's Son, 1302 Main Street, Richmond, Va.

RICHMOND, VA., October, 1886.

My wife and three children returned to this city from Charles City County, where they contracted chills and fever, and their systems thoroughly saturated with malarial poison. One bottle of JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE cured my entire family. My wife suffered for five years with dyspepsia in its most aggravated form, and was permanently cured by VEGETABLE NOLANDINE, using only two bottles. J. B. BURTON.

RICHMOND, VA., July, 1889.

This is to certify that I have known of the superior qualities of JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE for the past ten years, and during that time, at intervals, have had occasion to use it in person, and in my family, and have always found it a sure cure for derangements of the liver and kidneys, indigestion, headache, etc., and a good tonic.

L. C. DAVIS, 804 North Fifth Street.

ROBIOW'S STATION, CHESTERFIELD CO., VA., March 25, 1885.

Mr. J. W. Johnston:

Dear Sir:—Having suffered for years with a chronic affection of the kidneys, derangement of the liver, and my general system charged with malarial poison, I found no relief from treatment of medicine until I used VEGETABLE NOLANDINE. I am now free from above complaints, and to NOLANDINE I am indebted for this restoration to health. I honestly recommend it to all persons suffering from the above diseases.

WILLIAM DICKSON, Superintendent of Coal Mines.

RICHMOND, VA., May, 1885.

I can cheerfully recommend JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE to any one suffering from liver or kidney complaints and bilious derangement of the system. Its prompt and permanent action in my case affords me pleasure to recommend it to others similarly affected.

CHARLES P. SELDEN, Hardware Merchant,
Formerly with Singer Sewing Machine Co.

409 EAST CLAY STREET, RICHMOND, VA., March 10, 1886.

Mr. Jas W. Johnston:

Dear Sir:—I have used your NOLANDINE, and would cheerfully recommend it as a valuable medicine for malarial diseases and for promoting appetite, and a splendid tonic. For the relief of the pains consequent upon female weakness and irregularities I consider it without an equal.

Respectfully, MRS. L. M. BELL.

OFFICE CHESAPEAKE AND OHIO RAILWAY COMPANY,
RICHMOND, VA., March 1, 1885.

I lived on lower James River for eight years in the malarial district. My sytem was thoroughly charged with this deadly poison. I exhausted the usually prescribed and domestic remedies without any benefit. I was induced to try JOHNSTON'S VEGETABBE NOLANDINE. Before using two bottles my liver was aroused from its long torpor, and I am now enjoying the best of health. My wife and children derived the same benefits from NOLANDINE. J. A. WYATT.

FLEET, KING AND QUEEN CO., VA., January 31, 1887.

I was afflicted with chills and fever during the fall of last year. I could stop them with quinine, but they wouldn't stay stopped; they would return the 7th, 14th, 21st, or 28th days. A friend gave me a part of a bottle of NOLANDINE, and I used it according to directions, and I have not had a chill since. I am in good health and weigh as much or more than I ever did. E. S. WILSON.

509 NORTH EIGHTH STREET, RICHMOND, VA

Mr. Johnston:

Dear Sir:—Your NOLANDINE has quite come up to all its promises. So valuable do I consider a family medicine that, unsolicited by yourself, I offer my certificate.

Yours truly, MRS. E. F. PATTON.

RICHMOND, VA., July 13, 1887.

J. W. Johnston, Proprietor Nolandine:

Dear Sir:—I have taken your NOLANDINE for habitual constipation of eight years' standing, during which time I have tried many preparations, but I did not receive any relief until I used your preparation, from which I have received immediate and permanent benefits. Was also suffering with malarial and blood poison. I am now free from all such complications and, I am happy to say, enjoying exceptionally good health.

Yours truly, J. R. DOWDES.

412 EAST BROAD STREET, RICHMOND, VA.

J. W. Johnston:

I feel it but just to recommend your valuable medicine, NOLANDINE, for any trouble caused by torpid liver, or constipation produced by morphine or any drug used to subdue pain. As a tonic for delicate females it is unsurpassed.

The above you are heartily welcome to use any way you deem best, and I will personally tell any one what it will do on application. Respectfully, MRS. A. E. ANTHONY.

To whom it may concern:

RICHMOND, VA., October 1, 1889.

For twelve months I was a fearful sufferer from chronic eczema, during which time I was in the hands of a m stskillful physician, faithfully using his remedies, internal and external, without deriving any benefit whatever. I suffered night and day with the most intolerable itching, continuous headacoe, loss of sleep, appetite and strength. My kidneys and nervous system were fearfully deranged, and my body was covered with innumerable boils. By taking three (3) bottles of JOHNSTON'S VEGETABLE NOLANDINE I have been restored to perfect health. I regard NOLANDINE as the best blood purifier and the most powerful tonic ever compounded, and I am not alone in this belief.

Very respectfully yours, &c., H. B. GRUBBS.
